Workshop a success

The Eastern Highlands Provincial Health Authority (EHPHA) senior officers including the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Joseph Apa, the Senior Executive Management (SEM) team, the management and staff of the Goroka Provincial Hospital and the District Health Officers (DHO's) from the eight districts of the province turned up overwhelmingly to participate in the three days National Health Services Standards & Internal Surveyor's Training Workshop held in Goroka recently.

Representatives and senior officers from the National Department of Health (NDoH) were on hand and facilitated at the workshop, the second ipants from around the province.

Earlier before this Standards workshop, an induction was also carried out that was facilitated by the NDoH senior officer Mrs. Agnes Pawiong after the official swearing in of the 4th EHPHA Board of Governance.

Mrs. Pawiong who is also a member of the board when facilitating at the induction strongly stretched that the roles, functions and responsibilities of the board, the management and staff of not only the EHPHA, but the health sector across the country is important, because their input as the frontrunners and leaders in providing and delivering vital health services can make a lot of difference for the people in their respective communities in the provinces.

The board members including the Chairman Mr. Chris Kopyoto, his deputy Mr. Tau Amevo, Mr. Philip Samar, Mr. Ipae Maniha, Mr. Allan Loss, Mr. Enoch Mieh, Rev: Graham Baital and Mrs. Miriam Layton were present and participated at the induction.

And most of the participants pictured above also participated in the induction including the CEO Dr. Apa, the SEM team comprising the Director for Public Health Services Dr. Max Manape and his deputy Mr. Kairu Opa, Director for Curative Health Services Dr. Kapiro Kendaura, the Corporate Services Director Mr. Michael Singip and the acting Hospital Manager Dr. Ian Wani.
